Discover Bridgeport Art
NOVEMBER 13-16, 2014
bridgeport-art-trail.org

Letter from Mayor Bill Finch

It gives me great pleasure to welcome you to the Bridgeport Art Trail, a wonderful showcase of our city's thriving arts and culture scene. Creativity is in Bridgeport's DNA. We're the home of big thinkers like P.T. Barnum, Elias Howe, Igor Sikorsky and Gustave Whitehead. They harnessed their creative energy and helped reshape the world around them. Today, we continue to promote creativity in Bridgeport and are creating an environment for artists to succeed and thrive.

I'm proud to support Bridgeport Arts Fest, a one-day celebration of local and original art, artists, crafters, community organizations and performers; Downtown Thursdays, a concert series featuring local bands and musicians that enlivens summer evenings, and the Mayor's Neighborhood Arts & Heritage Grant Program which provides seed money for local arts projects. These three initiatives have helped energize our local artists.

The Bridgeport Art Trail map is an excellent tool to illustrate the proliferation of our arts community: From our revitalized Downtown neighborhood, the hub of the Park City's arts and cultural scene where you'll find Read's ArtSpace, City Lights Gallery, Barnum Museum, Bijou Theatre, the Housatonic Museum of Art and the newest addition McLevy Hall Space XChange, to the West Side, home of The NEST Arts Factory and the Klein Memorial Auditorium, to the East Side where you'll find, the 305 Knowlton Street Artists Studios and in the East End, American Fabrics Arts Building.

I encourage everyone to use your copy of the Art Trail map all year-round and discover Bridgeport's creative side.

Sincerely,

Bill Finch

The 6th Annual Bridgeport Art Trail

Welcome to the 6th Annual Bridgeport Art Trail. Use this guide to view open studios and galleries throughout the city Thursday - Sunday, November 13-16, 2014. Included are the November weekend calendar of events and a directory of artists, venues and organizations that can be used year round. The Bridgeport Art Trail website is updated monthly, and contains links to participating venues. Visit bridgeport-art-trail.org. To receive the monthly email send your request to clgallerybpt@gmail.com Please use "BAT newsletter" in the subject title.

View Art. Meet the Artists. Connect with the Creative Community. Participate in Demonstrations. Enjoy Music, Poetry and Dance. Buy Art. Bike the Bridgeport Art Trail Saturday. Join up at City Lights Gallery at 10:30 am.

Visitors are also encouraged to pick up Bridgeport Art Trail guide at participating locations, tour the city and venues independently, and learn about the growing creative community of the 'Park City'. A digital version of this 2014 guide, and of course information about our generous sponsors, can be found at bridgeport-art-trail.org This website is updated monthly throughout the year with arts and culture programs city-wide.

Looking Back...

Along with celebrating the arts venues city-wide, the 2013 Art Trail kick-off recognized the collaborative effort to enrich the learning experience for Bridgeport students by integrating art into their daily curriculum. The TURNAROUND Arts program pilot project sponsored by the President's Committee on the Arts and Humanity, enabled the Roosevelt School community to continue to develop a vibrant educational experience, with the goal to improve students' performance and enthusiasm about life-long learning. A highlight of the program was the mentorship of world renowned artist, Chuck Close. Housatonic Museum of Art hosted an exhibit of his work alongside the work of his student mentees during the Art Trail. Mr. Close attended the opening reception and celebrated with community.

What's new...Party with Artists at Thursday's, Bpt Art Trail Kick-off

After witnessing the long lasting positive effects from an arts event that engaged the greater community, we decided to establish an annual artists' party to kick-off the Art Trail and invite the community to attend.

Thursday, November 13: party with the artists downtown at McLevy Hall.

After touring the other downtown arts venues on Thursday night, meet the artists of Bridgeport and the creative community from locations city-wide at this McLevy Hall reception. Enjoy a sampling of small works by Bpt Art Trail artists, exhibited throughout the building. Mingle at a reception with live music featuring local talent including the instructors of the Hall Arts Academy and Neighborhood Studios of Fairfield County. WPKN programmers will keep the party going, spinning an eclectic mix of music. Enjoy light refreshments. Admission is free and open to the public, however donations will be gratefully accepted at the door. Contributions will be used to support FREE programs of the Bridgeport Art Trail.

Bridgeport Art Trail Artists Working in the Community:

Local artists continue to share their time and talent with Bridgeport youth and adults through grants and support from the National Endowment of the Arts, CT Office on the Arts, the City of Bridgeport, the Fairfield County Community Foundation, People's United Bank, ALPHA Community Services and other organizations and individuals. FREE public art and outreach programs include: arts enrichment, arts engagement, and expressive arts programs.

VIEW ART, TALK ART, BUY ART.

This year's program guide lists 30 venues and organizations city-wide, including: American Fabrics Arts Building; 305 Knowlton St.; The NEST Arts Factory and Read's ArtSpace.

Enjoy the hospitality of the creative community. Please don't hesitate to enjoy the experience of purchasing a piece of art or fine craft. Your purchase enables the artist to keep creating, and for the Bridgeport Art Trail to continue in future years.

JUST THINK... Artists reflect and inspire humanity. Your purchase of art makes an impact on contemporary culture and history. Supporting the artists of your creative community impacts the collective culture and leaves your mark on history.

Appreciate the Architecture

Be sure to appreciate the architecture, another impressive aspect of the Art Trail. For example, McLevy Hall is the most recent location added to the Bridgeport Art Trail as well as the oldest and most historic. Constructed of brownstone in 1854 in the Greek Revival style, it served as city hall and the hall of records. McLevy Hall was a stop on the campaign trail of Abraham Lincoln. He gave a speech here before heading to New York. Originally named Washington Hall, it was renamed for Jasper McLevy, a socialist mayor who served the city for 24 years.

The sprawling complexes that comprise the art studios of the Bridgeport Art Trail include the NEST Arts Factory, the Innovation Center, and the American Fabrics Arts Building. Originally opened in 1910 as a lace factory, American Fabrics began producing binding for military blankets in 1917. Events that took place in the American Fabrics building reflect national and international history from World War I to Labor Union Struggles. To learn more about the rich story of American Fabrics visit: amfabarts.com/history/

The Bridgeport Art Trail grew from 3 previous efforts: the very successful Open Studio weekends of American Fabrics artists on Connecticut Avenue; a simple Downtown Art-Walk map that City Lights created in 2007; and the Black Rock Friday Art Walks that took place 2006-8. The purpose of the Bridgeport Art Trail is to promote the artists, engage the community, and attract visitors to discover Bridgeport Art. Our mantra is VIEW ART / TALK ART / BUY ART.

Fourth Annual Bike the Bridgeport Art Trail, Saturday, November 15

Meet at City Lights for a coffee and... before heading out. Bob Halstead, resident and Bridgeportophile, will lead a tour to artists' studio spaces and historic spots along the way, including beautiful Mountain Grove Cemetery, the final resting place of Tom Thumb and P.T. Barnum. See the Art Trail schedule pages 19-22 for full details.

Event: 9th Annual Open Studios

Saturday, November 15; 10 am to 5 pm

Sunday, November 16; 10 am to 5 pm

Now in its ninth year, AFA (American Fabrics Arts Building) Open Studios showcases over 30 artists in their studios where the creative process happens. Held in a renovated factory building where linen and lace were once manufactured, the event has become a destination for collectors, interior designers, and art lovers alike. AFA's diverse group of artists are engaged in painting, printmaking, sculpture, quilting, jewelry, photography, ceramics, textiles, design, mixed media, and more. Every year we welcome new artist tenants, lending a fresh perspective to the event. Many artists will be offering affordable art for sale (see the AFA artists list at the back of the guide, for more information). Denyse Schmidt Quilts, Jocelyn Braxton Armstrong Ceramics, Brechin Morgan, Janet Slom, and Ulla Surland will be holding their annual studio sales.

In an effort to give back to the community we love, for the second year we are supporting the Bridgeport Rescue Mission. The mission serves those in need, feeds the hungry, shelters the homeless, and helps people conquer drug and alcohol addictions. AFA will be serving as a drop-off point for their Thanksgiving Stuff-A-Truck event, giving patrons the opportunity to donate food and coats for local families in need. (See event listing.)

Lastly, the artists of AFA have joined together to donate an assortment of small works to be packed into a unique handmade tote bag from Ocheltree Design for the AFA Collector's Raffle. The bag is chock full of art lover goodies, and will be raffled for $5 a chance, with all proceeds going to BRM!

There will be food trucks from the Snappy Dawgs (Bridgeport) and Four Flours Bakery (New Haven) in the east parking lot to serve our patrons from 10 am to 5 pm each day. Music and participatory performances will offer fun for the whole family! Ample onsite free parking and handicapped access.

Sunday, November 16; 10 am to 5 pm

Samples from the DS Couture collection, Works collection, and one-of-a-kind studio quilts will be on view, with a select few available for sale. Denyse's fabrics, including best-selling designs for JoAnn Stores and Free Spirit Fabrics, will be available as cut-to-order yardage, pre-cuts, and scraps for the DIY crafter. Denyse's quilt patterns will also be available at an event-only discount. Project development samples, stationery, and more will be offered at take-it-away prices. Prices range from $1 to $5,000. Serious buyers should arrive early—Denyse's sales are well attended! MasterCard, Visa, and cash accepted.

Event: Quilting Demonstration & Bee by the Norwalk Community Quilt Project at Denyse Schmidt Quilts

Saturday, November 15; 11 am to 2 pm

Peace by Piece: the Norwalk Community Quilt Project, seeks to enhance the lives of young people and elders in the city of Norwalk by bringing them together in a common endeavor. Over 700 volunteers united to create the Growing Together quilt to celebrate the 10th anniversary of the Stepping Stones Museum for Children and the Norwalk Has Heart quilt for the Norwalk Public Library. Local author and illustrator Lizzy Rockwell serves as the group's artistic director and says it best, "The quilt is a metaphor for the community that created it, showing that good things happen when many come together as one." Join in and learn to stitch and quilt!

Event: Jocelyn Braxton Armstrong Ceramics Annual Studio Sale—Studio #410

Saturday, November 15; 10 am to 5 pm

Sunday, November 16; 10 am to 5 pm

Sunday, November 16; 10 am to 5 pm

The Bridgeport Rescue Mission will bless more than 4,000 needy families with a turkey and all the fixings, plus a winter coat for every member of the family who needs one! Help us to help them by bringing donations to our Open Studio event. Their warehouse is in our complex and AFA is a drop-off point. They are asking for the following contributions:

- ◆ 12–15 lb. frozen turkeys
- ◆ Canned green beans, corn, peas, and sweet potatoes
- ◆ Canned cranberry sauce
- ◆ Stuffing mix
- ◆ Canned gravy
- ◆ 1 lb. cans of coffee
- ◆ Powdered fruit drink mixes

Bins for Donations will be placed at both entrances.

Directions:

By Train/Ferry: Metro North or Amtrak to Bridgeport Station. Port Jefferson Ferry to Water Street Dock (next to train station). AFA is approximately two and a half miles from the station. Taxis are available from the train station's cabstand.

Jesús Emmanuel Villarreal, fine artist, figure and portrait painter, was trained in the academic tradition of the Florence Academy of Art. He exhibits internationally and offers figure drawing and painting workshops in his studio at the Innovation Center on Connecticut Avenue.

Event: Portrait Painting Demo with Jesús Villarreal

Saturday, November 15; 12:30 to 3:30 pm

Witness the process as Jesús paints along with his students during a portrait painting workshop in his studio.

Classes in the studio of Jesús Villarreal

Learning to draw and paint in the studio of an established working artist has been a time-honored practice through which knowledge and skills are passed from generation to generation. Jesús Emmanuel Villarreal's studio reinvigorates this tradition with personalized and intensive instruction. During classes, artists acquire the knowledge and techniques necessary to develop their work with a high level of draftsmanship and aesthetic criteria. Enrollment is limited to allow for personalized instruction for students at all levels. Students work from still-life, life models, or photo references.

Drawing and painting from a model, regular class schedule:

Wednesdays and Saturdays, 9 am to 12 noon; 12:30 to 3:30 pm.

The Innovation Center, a sprawling complex a block away from American Fabric Arts, is an industrial and entrepreneurial incubator designed to meet the unique needs of start-ups, creative entrepreneurs, and expanding businesses.

WPKN is "The Real Alternative" to an increasingly homogeneous and limited choice in broadcast radio. This 10,000-watt non-commercial station was founded in 1963 as the college radio station of the University of Bridgeport and has been broadcasting for 51 years!

While studios and offices remain on the campus of the University of Bridgeport, in 1989 WPKN became an independent, non-profit corporation. Since then, WPKN has been primarily a listener-supported community radio station, broadcasting at 89.5-FM. WPKN streams live on the Internet at www.wpkn.org, on iTunes Radio, iHeart Radio, and TuneIn, and has its own free app for the iPhone and iPad from the Apple App Store as WPKN Live. Archived shows are available via the website.

Initially established to serve the needs of the residents of Bridgeport's local educational institutions, WPKN's FM signal now serves a potential listenership of 2.0 million people in Connecticut, Long Island, and parts of New York and Massachusetts. Programs on WPKN include live and recorded music, free-form music, news, public affairs, and spoken word. WPKN's volunteer programmers present a wide variety of music and alternative information, in an eclectic mix of free-form programming that seeks to serve in a unique and vibrant way those whose needs are not met by mainstream media. WPKN's programming mix is a cornucopia of genres and styles. From the obscure to the recognizable, it is presented by informed programmers who help listeners discover and rediscover the best in live and recorded performance.

WPKN actively participates as a media partner with many arts and cultural entities, including Gathering of the Vibes, Litchfield Jazz festival, International Festival of Arts & Ideas, Great South Bay Music Festival and many others. WPKN is the founder of the annual WPKN Music Mash-Record Fair.

Event: JUDAICA Now Art Exhibit, Film Screenings, and Presentation: Jews & Comics

City Lights hosts its first exhibit featuring work based on Jewish art, religion, culture and history, running through November 26, 2014. The influence and creativity from artists and innovators of Jewish background permeates American culture. One aspect of the exhibition will depict how Jewish comic artists, illustrators, and editors have influenced American pop culture of the twentieth century to the present.

Event: Jews & Comics

Friday, November 14; 7 pm, preceded by light refreshments at 6:30 pm

Jews and Comics, presented by exhibiting artist, illustrator, author, and editor Arlen Schumer.

Captain America, Iron Man, Thor, and The Avengers are names recognized by the American public as the leading Marvel Comics superheroes who have become billion-dollar Hollywood film franchises—with no end in sight. (Such films are planned out for the next 20 years!) Most people wouldn't recognize the names of those who created the popular iconic superheroes...or that they were Jewish. Superman, the creation of Jerry Siegel, reflects the tragic death of his father, a Jewish immigrant from Lithuania who was killed during a robbery in his second-hand clothes store. The team at Marvel Comics, originators of Captain America and the Fantastic Four, anglicized their names: writer/editor Stan Lee was Stanley Lieber and artist/storyteller Jack Kirby was Ya'akov Kurtzberg.

City Lights opening night

Schumer comments: "How an uneducated, first-generation, American-born son of European Jewish immigrants named Ya'akov Kurtzberg, growing up in the Lower East Side of New York City, became Jack "King" Kirby—"King" as in the acknowledged master of the superhero comic book genre—is one of the most compelling Jewish/American stories presented in Jews & Comics."

Sunday Film Screenings: Enjoy Two Films and a Nosh

Sunday, November 16; 4 to 7:30 pm

Two film screenings and a light buffet, including Jewish delicacies.

4:30 pm: 'Ester Street,' a documentary film by Lisa Seidenberg, running time: 46 minutes; followed by a Q/A, a munch and a mingle.

'Ester Street' takes its name from a street in Kazimierz, the old Jewish Section of Krakow, Poland. As with most of the country, it once had a thriving Jewish community which ended with the Holocaust. The film is a first-person journey that explores the unlikely occasion of a Jewish Culture Festival in Krakow, an annual event held in part because of the lifting of Communism as much as to be a cultural celebration, a notion that is questionable. The documentary explores the idea of remembrance. Among the questions that are raised, if not totally answered, are What is appropriate? Whom does it benefit? Does history depend on memory that may not be accurate? Includes a visit to Roman Polanski's boyhood home, commentary by author Michael Wex, and music by acclaimed Klezmer groups Veretski Pass and Beyond The Pale.

6 pm IRWIN, produced and directed by Dan Makara and Frank Borres, running time: 55 minutes

Irwin, now 96, began his career at the outset of the comic book industry in 1939. In 1955 he began a 30-year stint on the newspaper strip "Dondi." The son of Russian Jewish immigrants, Irwin's many irreverent stories are for "mature audiences." Also featured are Paul Levitz, former president of DC Comics, Daily News sports cartoonist Bill Gallo, and cartoonist/screenwriter Jules Feiffer.

Enjoy a sampling of small works by Bpt Art Trail artists, exhibited throughout McLevy Hall. Mingle at a reception with live music featuring local talent and the instructors of the Hall Neighborhood House Arts Academy and Neighborhood Studios of Fairfield County. WPKN programmers will keep the party going, spinning an eclectic mix of music. Enjoy light refreshments. Admission is free and open to the public; however donations will be welcomed at the door. Contributions will support Bridgeport Art Trail free public programs.

Tour the offices and working spaces of the creative community of the McLevy Hall reactivation project. Constructed of brownstone in 1854 in the Greek Revival style, McLevy Hall served as city hall and the hall of records. While campaigning for president, Abraham Lincoln gave a campaign speech here before heading to New York. Originally named Washington Hall, it is now named after Jasper McLevy, a socialist mayor who served the city for 24 years.

After two years of vacancy, McLevy Hall is now being reactivated through support from the City of Bridgeport and the CT State Historic Preservation Office. McLevy Hall tenants are working on a broad range of projects and community services, including Bridgeport Living History, Tai Chi classes, tutorial services, recording studio, design and art studios and workshops, and the establishment of Bridgeport's Center for African American History and Culture. The Bridgeport Portrait Project and Poli's Palace & Majestic Theatre Memories Project Thursday, November 13th through Sunday, November 16th.

See videos and still photos and contribute your thoughts, ideas, and memories to either or both projects. Free Admission. Contact: Jay & Geralene 203.268.8306 / misencik.images@gmail.com

Jay Misencik and Geralene Valentine of Misencik Photography are working on two documentary-style photography/audio projects. Both grew out of personal projects they worked on years ago. Both projects need the participation of many people in the community. To succeed, the creative process must be community based.

1. The Bridgeport Portrait Project will introduce you to the PEOPLE who make the City of Bridgeport much more than just a PLACE. It will define a rich, culturally diverse community, sometimes tormented by its own wonderful history.

2. The Poli's Palace & Majestic Theatre Memories project will bring to life two magnificent dormant theatres as people share their memories of times they spent at the Palace and Majestic on Bridgeport's Main Street.

9e African-American History & Culture

Suite 208, McLevy Hall

Director of Operations: Gilbert L.Davis
aahact@yahoo.com / 203.331.9269

The purpose of the Center for African-American History & Culture is to relate the story of Africans and their descendants who developed diverse civilizations in Africa and then were taken into slavery, and their social development in the United States, the Caribbean and South Africa. The Center features art and artifacts from a variety of African societies and tribes, and art of contemporary artists. Our special interest library includes books on African/African American History, with a section dedicated to U.S. Civil War, a pivotal event in the history of African people living in the United States.

Art Education classes are held on Monday, Wednesday, and Thursday from 6:00-9:00 pm and Saturday 12:00-3:00 pm. The center is also open Monday, Wednesday and Thursday 10:00-1:00 pm.

13 Maggie Daly Arts Cooperative (MDAC)

4021 Broad Street, Bridgeport, CT 06604

203.690.1609 / thekennedyctr.org

Event: Open House and Exhibition

Friday, November 14; 8 am to 4 pm

Saturday, November 15; 10 am to 3 pm

The opening of The Kennedy Center's Maggie Daly Arts Cooperative (MDAC) in May 2014 added an exciting and unique new initiative to the cultural fabric of Bridgeport and brought vitality, creativity, and new constituencies to join in the arts. Located in the former Read's building, MDAC's artists with intellectual disabilities have already made connections with neighbors, businesses, universities, museums, and arts councils, forming innovative partnerships to celebrate the universal language of art. At MDAC, opportunities abound for artists to delve into a whole array of arts, including photography, theater, music, movement, painting, sculpture, and more.

The exhibition MDAC's Amazing Medley shows the scope of work in various mediums that MDAC artists have created in group projects, as well as individually. The exhibition not only raises awareness about the talents of artists, but is also a testimony to their vision and creativity and ability to transcend their disabilities.

Event: ArtBra Info Session and Hands-On Bra-Art Creating Workshop

Friday, November 14; 4 to 8 pm

Saturday, November 15; 1 to 4 pm

Made In Bridgeport and Art Bra New Haven are collaborating to bring information and an afternoon of ArtBra designing and art making in the Made In Bridgeport shop to benefit breast cancer patients. What is ArtBra about? "We use our special brand of art therapy as a creative emotional expression of our experience, and as a way to provide financial support for treatment of under and uninsured patients." There will be an upcoming 4th annual ArtBra runway event with the theme "Beauty is in The Eye of the Beholder." The 501(c) (3) charity invites artists and designers to create one-of-a-kind imaginative works of art that will be auctioned to support their mission to help others with breast cancer. Your creative works will be juried and then, if chosen, posted on their Facebook site before being auctioned for this great cause.

ArtBra Workshops (1 hour sessions) for your creative contribution: Bring some bras and let's work out some ideas for a great and fun way to help others. Let's make it fun, humorous, sexy and artistic. Bring your creative passion. You don't have to make the entire bra that day, but get some info and possibly some materials to assist in its creation.

Creatures: The Art of Susan Frey

Featured in the Mezzanine Art Gallery, artist Susan Frey twists shapes, figures, animals, and plants into playful compositions, where objects are suspended between the real and an imagined world. Featuring geometric patterns, color combinations give the shapes organizational qualities and balance.

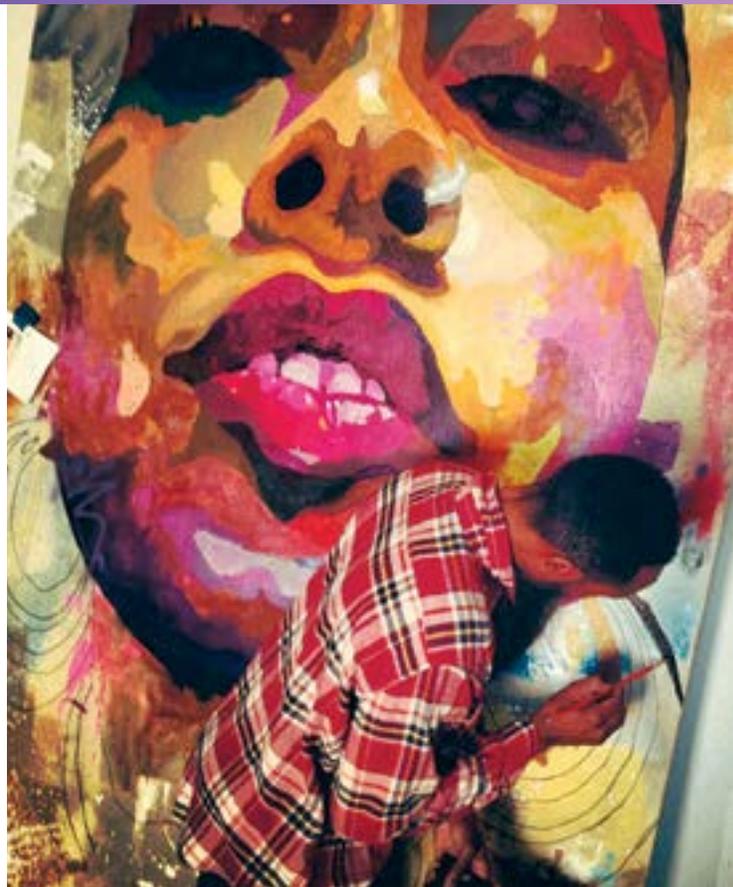

All in a Day's Work: Photographs of Women in Connecticut Industry

Part of the Pitney Bowes Connecticut Inventions and Innovations exhibit, All in a Day's Work explores the history of our State's women workers in the late nineteenth century through the first half of the twentieth century, when women first started working in factories in great numbers. This photographic journey through Connecticut's factories shows the way disadvantaged women and immigrants sought to augment their household incomes and lift their families to a different socio-economic level through hard—often tedious—work.

'Ester St.' Documentary, Running Time 46 mins. Ester Street takes its name from a street in Kazimierz, the old Jewish Section of Krakow, Poland, a thriving Jewish community which ended with the holocaust. The film is a first person journey exploring the unlikely occasion of a Jewish Culture Festival in Krakow. The documentary explores the idea of remembrances. What is appropriate? And whom does it benefit? Ester St. includes a visit to Roman Polanski's boyhood house, commentary by author Michael Wex, and music by acclaimed Klezmer groups Veretski Pass and Beyond The Pale. (for full description see #8)

IRWIN, produced and directed by Dan Makara and Frank Borres, Running Time: 55 minutes Irwin, now 96, began his career at the outset of the comic book industry in 1939. In 1955 he began a 30 year stint on the newspaper strip Dondi. The son of Russian Jewish immigrants Irwin's many irreverent stories are for "mature audiences." Also featured are Paul Levitz former president of DC Comics, Daily News sports cartoonist Bill Gallo, and cartoonist/screenwriter Jules Feiffer.
